Welcome to BioForum 2018

Now, in its 17th edition, BioForum 2018 is becoming the biggest partnering conference in Central and Eastern Europe that provides the world's most innovative leaders across the Life Sciences sector to network and do business with one another on pre-scheduled B2B meetings.

BioForum is the meeting place, where you can exchange information and connect with people involved in creating and implementing innovations from both the scientific and business worlds. This event is especially open to young people – startups builders, as well as students and doctoral students.

Join us in Lodz on May where industry leaders will debate current trends, companies will showcase their latest technologies and all attendees will have the opportunity to schedule B2B meetings with leading dealmakers.

TECHNOLOGY PARTNERSHIP

It is time to switch business model and co-create the value of our businesses based on technology partnership.

SMART MONEY

BioForum Partners are able to support your growth in the field of clinical development, regulatory issues or marketing, and sales, not only money.

TALENTED COMMUNITY

BioForum is a community of professionals who apply their experience and knowledge to create life science sector.
